To whom it may concern;

I am writing this letter on behalf of Christopher James.

While attending a fund raising event last year, I was approached by Christopher. He entertained the group I was with an array of magic tricks. He had us laughing, scratching our heads and in awe of how he trick us time and time again.

Subsequent to this event, I asked Christopher to volunteer his time at the local Supercities Walk/Run for MS, I was helping to organize. He was again well received by crowd, as he entertained participants as they waited in our registration line up.

I would recommend Christopher and would definitely encourage others to have him entertain their groups with his magical skills.
